Am I Eligible?

- Coconino County Resident
- At least 16 years old
- Have a picture ID
- Currently have an annual earned income (job or work study) between $4,000 and $23,540
- Valid US social security number or federal taxpayer ID number
- Have proof of income (current tax return or three (3) months recent paycheck stubs)
- Have no more than $10,000 in net worth

What are IDAs?

Individual Development Accounts are savings accounts designed to help working individuals and families save for homeownership, education, and small business startup expenses. Post-Secondary IDAs do not disqualify a student from receiving grants or scholarships.

What is Coconino $ave2Learn?

Coconino $ave2Learn is a post-secondary IDA program for Coconino Community College administered by Coconino County Community Services. $ave2Learn is offering a 3 to 1 match up to $1,000. Parental income or assets are not factors in determining program eligibility.

How the IDA Program Works

1. Complete an application
2. Attend an Intake Interview
3. Open an IDA Savings Account at a participating institution
4. Deposit money monthly in your IDA for a minimum of six months ($25.00 per month)
5. Attend a free financial literacy workshop
6. Enroll in classes at CCC
7. Request to make an "asset purchase" and pay for tuition, fees, books, and course required supplies with your matched savings
